THE PURPOSE OF CURRENCY

The history of currency – commonly referred to as 'money' – can be traced back more than 4,000 years.

Indeed, the chronicle of currency, including its various forms of money substitutes, spans millennia, each chapter embodying an episode of human evolution in varied societies. From the earliest forms of commodity currencies such as cattle, grain, and shells, our ancestors understood the necessity of a standardized medium of exchange to facilitate and enhance trade. Regardless of its form through the ages, the quintessential attribute of 'money' lies in its broad acceptance for transactions--from trading of goods and services to debt settlements--by individuals, communities, and institutions alike.

The Lydian Stater, struck during the reign of King Croesus, signifies early strides in standardized coinage. Its emblematic lion and bull imagery conveys strength and prosperity, reflecting the thriving commerce and power of Croesus' Lydian kingdom.

Secondly, money must function as a standard of value or unit of account. In an economic context, every item has a price, which is denoted in terms of money. This allows individuals and organizations to compare the relative cost of different goods, services, and resources. Without this ability, the economic system as we know it would falter. The absence of relative cost comparison would impede market equilibrium, disrupt price mechanisms, and create anomalies in supply and demand. Companies wouldn't know how to price their goods and services accurately, and consumers wouldn't know whether they are getting a fair deal. As a founding pillar of a functioning economy, relative cost comparison is a conduit through which informed purchasing decisions are made.

A third attribute of money is its role as a store of value. This means that money can be saved and retrieved in the future, and its worth will remain relatively stable over time. This attribute presupposes a low rate of inflation; if prices rise dramatically, the purchasing power of money erodes, undermining its usefulness as a store of value.

Lastly, the ideal medium of exchange should possess certain physical characteristics: it must be durable, portable, divisible, and difficult to counterfeit to ensure its functionality and integrity.

These characteristics come together to form what we basically recognize as money in our economic systems and society. Therefore, studying these aspects can help us gain a clearer understanding of the multifaceted concept we know as 'money'.

Illustrating Athens' revered legacy, the city's coinage proudly bears the quintessential symbol of wisdom and vigilance, the owl. This bird, a vigorous emblem of the city's influence and democracy, provides a straightforward yet profound insight into Athens at its zenith, symbolizing the astute philosophical drive that propelled the city-state during the golden age of Ancient Greece.

ISSUING AUTHORITY AS GUARANTOR

The issuing authority — typically a central bank or a government — bears significant influence in orchestrating the dynamics of currency within an economy. This was historically true for minted coins and is definitively true for today's fiat currency system. The authority exercises its paramount role through rigorous control over the supply of money, dictated by monetary policies reflecting the nation's economic objectives such as maintaining inflation, controlling interest rates, or ensuring employment rates.

The control exercised by the issuing authority secures the three fundamental attributes of currency: its functions as a medium of exchange, a unit of account, and a store of value.

Throughout antiquity and into the evolution of modern mintage, a stunning array of symbols, images, and inscriptions has been employed on gold and silver coins to guarantee their authenticity and foster trust in their inherent value. Such features weren't just aesthetic choices—they were also technical assurances of a coin's legitimacy and value.

In ancient civilizations, coinage often bore the image of a revered deity or distinguished monarch. The presence of these divine or monarchical visages was more than mere tribute—it was a tacit certification of the coin's content and value. For instance, ancient Greek tetradrachms bore the head of Athena and the emblem of an owl, symbols associated with the patroness of the city-state of Athens. Later, under the reign of Alexander the Great, his image portrayed as Hercules coalesced his authority and guaranteed the silver content of his coins.

Other vital components of coins were their weight and metal content. Mintage involved precise and highly guarded processes to ensure uniform weight across coins of the same denomination, lending additional credibility. In the famed Romans' denarii, for instance, a specific weight of silver was maintained for centuries—an assurance of legitimacy to its holders.

Alongside, ancient empires also used intricate minting techniques to discourage counterfeiting. The use of milled and lettered edges, striations, or raised elements on the coin surface are some early anti-random forgery measures. Such features, complex for the times, were hard to imitate accurately and hence safeguarded the coin's authenticity.

A stunning exemplar of Roman history, this Eid Mar coin is more than mere currency. It is an artifact of propaganda, a tangible narrative of Brutus' ill-fated rebellion, encapsulating a time when coins were not only mediums of exchange but also powerful tools of political messaging.

Therefore, symbols, technical specifications, and advanced production techniques harmonized to ensure the authenticity of early gold and silver coins. To hold such a coin was not merely to possess a piece of precious metal—it was to hold a piece of assured value, underwritten by the reigning authority and embodied in every intricate detail etched onto its surfaces.

TRUST IN AUTHORITY BETRAYED

Throughout history, gold and silver coins have played a central role in the exchange of goods, the accumulation of wealth, and the shaping of economies. Gold coins became a symbol of wealth and power, coveted not only for their inherent golden lustre, but also for their unwavering testament to economic security, practicality for large-scale transactions, and for stowing away wealth. For instance, during the Middle Ages, it was primarily the feudal lords, senior clergy, prosperous traders, and the nobility who hoarded and used gold coins like the famed Florentine Florin or Venetian Ducat.

However, the rarity and high value of gold coins often made them less practical for everyday transactions among the less wealthy or common folk. Rather, they traded with lesser valuable coinage, such as silver coins. Similar to gold, silver provided a tangible medium of exchange that carried intrinsic value.

Embodying ancient craftsmanship, this Chinese Kuan note, rendered on durable mulberry paper and adorned with durable charcoal dye, is a vivid testament to China's innovative strides in the evolution of currency.

Representing a peak moment in a modern era of extreme hyperinflation, the 100 Trillion Zimbabwe Dollar note from the late 2000s is more than just currency—it's a page from a compelling chapter in economic history. As the highest denomination of currency ever officially issued, this note serves as a palpable reminder of the destabilizing effects of hyperinflation on an economy and its citizens.

The charm and utility of these coins, however, were not always safeguarded. An economic practice known as "debasement" often cast a shadow over their virtue. Debasement is the process where the purity of a coin is intentionally reduced by the authorities who mint them. Historically, emperors, kings, and governments have replaced gold or silver content in coins with less valuable metals, such as copper or nickel, to stretch their wealth, pay debts, finance wars, or respond to economic crises.

While debasement may have been a short-term solution to fiscal predicaments, it came with long-term costs. Notably, it often led to inflation, as more and more debased coins were required to purchase the same goods or services. The Roman Empire, for instance, suffered significant economic turmoil due to rampant coinage debasement. As the silver content in the denarius reduced from nearly 100% under Emperor Augustus to less than 0.02% by the end of the 3rd century, Rome witnessed a prolonged period of hyperinflation and economic instability.

A radiant beacon of prestige, the King Henry VII Sovereign gold coin served as a tangible proclamation of the first Tudor monarch's power and diplomatic prowess in a pivotal era of English history.

Rhyming with the Roman Empire's painful demise, the Weimar hyperinflation of the early 1920s, precipitated by Germany's effort to settle insurmountable World War I reparations through extensive banknote production, led to a devastating decline in the Reichsmark's purchasing power. The resultant price escalation swiftly turned into an economic tailspin, with basic commodities demanding exorbitant sums and decimating the life savings of German citizens. An enduring economic cautionary tale, it underscores the perilous potential of unchecked monetary expansion and the necessity for maintaining a balanced equilibrium between currency supply and its inherent value.

NUMISMATICS - EXPLORING HISTORY THROUGH THE PRISM OF CURRENCY

Numismatics then, in its broadest sense, encompasses the study and collection of currency, including coins, tokens, paper money, and related objects. This expansive field reaches into numerous disciplines, uniting art, history, archaeology, economics, and even metallurgy in the quest to understand the story each item narrates.

Avid Ancients coin collectors may covet coins from the civilizations of Lydia, often credited with minting the first coins in the 7th century BCE. Note enthusiasts can trace beautiful specimens of paper money issued by the Song Dynasty in 11th-century China, marking one of the first uses of banknotes. Coming closer to modern times, from the momentous shift of the Middle Ages' hammered coinage—where each coin, struck between hand-engraved dies, bore the imprint of its own creation—to the machine-made uniformity of the modern era's milled coins, we witness the evolution of monetary symbolism and technology.

In fact, numismatics is often referred to as the "Hobby of Kings," a testament to its historical significance and the exquisite calibre of its allure. A pursuit favoured by monarchs throughout history, this study and collection of currencies, in all their varied forms, is steeped in narrative depth and significance, treasury of information about politics, economy, culture, and history unveiled through carefully crafted symbols minted on each piece. This regal epithet emphasises not only the noble pedigree

Late-Medieval Europe was a patchwork quilt of city-states, each governed by its own ruler hungry for control. Without a uniform monetary system, one potent stratagem for these sovereigns to emphasize their dominance was the creation and distribution of their own distinct currency. Originating from the silver mines of Joachimsthal on the present-day border of Germany and the Czech Republic, the ubiquitous Taler iterated in various forms from 'Daalder' to 'Daler', and ultimately conceived the term we know today as 'Dollar'.

of this hobby, but also reflects the grandeur and profound insights it imparts to its enthusiasts—individuals of all backgrounds who share a passion for uncovering the world's monetary stories.

As we leap into the digital age, it begs the question: does numismatics still have a role? Representations of electronic forms of currency like credit and debit cards signify the momentous shift from physical to intangible forms of 'money'. Cryptocurrencies, such as Bitcoin, represent modern notions of 'wealth', underscoring the global interest in decentralised currency systems. Happily, the answer, as will become apparent, is a resounding yes.

FROM PHYSICAL CASH TO ABSTRACT "BITS"

Historically, currency has always been a tactile entity, something we could touch, count, and hoard. This physical manifestation allowed for a certain emotional connection to it, nourishing a sense of security and tangibility. The pleasure of holding a newly minted coin or the rustle of crisp banknotes translates currency from a mere tool of exchange into a tangible asset, something to be possessed and accrued. The inherent 'thingness' anchored money to the realm of the tactile, making it easier for us to perceive and comprehend its value.

Enter the age of digital currencies, where value is dematerialised into units of coded data, or 'bits.' Here, the perception of monetary value takes a radical shift. The abstract concept of data fragments on the internet, on a remote ledger hidden beyond reach in a remote 'cloud', representing substantial financial value feels initially alien. Unlike the traditional cash we can own and feel, these are ethereal, and intangible, yet they hold an indispensable function in modern finance. We trade, invest, and even speculate on these invisible fragments of data, further endorsing their substantive value.

Reflecting the robust economic era of the gold standard, this U.S.A. Gold Certificate note stands as a monetary marvel, embodying the historical intersection of commerce and precious metals in the nation's financial journey.

Born from mathematical and technological brilliance and embraced by a global network of passionate enthusiasts, these digital currencies carry their own narratives layered with innovation, speculation, and exploration of new economic frontiers. Unlike tangible currencies and other collectibles, cryptocurrencies are intangible, rooted in complex algorithms and distributed ledger technology, popularly known as 'blockchain'. From the pioneering Bitcoin to an ever-growing myriad of Altcoins, cryptocurrencies are not merely a digital form of exchange; they carry the promise and potential challenges of a decentralised, peer-to-peer economic system that has the potential to redefine traditional concepts of value and transactional exchange. However, much like the realm of numismatics or fine art, their story is continually being written, as the world watches, participates, and ponders over this confluence of technology and finance.

Undeniably, Bitcoin enjoys an eminent position in the expansive landscape and hierarchy of digital currencies. Launched in 2009 by an anonymous person, or group of individuals, known as 'Satoshi Nakamoto', it marked the genesis of decentralized cryptocurrencies. Bitcoin, rather like the once revolutionary concept of the double eagle gold coin, engendered a paradigmatic turn in the financial sphere. Part of Bitcoin's original promise was that one can receive, store, and send bitcoins without intermediaries, offering a degree of monetary sovereignty not available in traditional finance.

Traditional banking systems and fiat currencies are controlled by central banks and government entities. This control arguably introduces political and economic vulnerabilities, such as the potential for hyperinflation and currency manipulation. Bitcoin, with its decentralized nature and limited supply, is inherently immune to such scenarios. Its underlying blockchain technology, using elaborate autonomously operated cryptographic protocols, ensures that every transaction is transparent, tamper-resistant, and excludes the need for a central authority such as the Federal Reserve. Akin to the rarities and precious metals in the numismatic realm, Bitcoin is ultimately defined by its capped limit—21 million bitcoins—fostering an element of scarcity and incalculable virtual value.

As much as a prized painting gains esteem through its confluence of aesthetic and historical acclaim, Bitcoin's value lies not just in its pioneering status, but also in the way it has come to encapsulate our society's burgeoning attempts to reconstruct and navigate the very essence of economic exchange in the digital age. In a very real sense, this marks an extremely intriguing development in humankind's emotional and psychological relationship with the concept of money. The shift from owning physical pieces of value to trusting in intangible digital assets indicates our evolving understanding and perception of what makes 'money.' Stripped of their physicality, currencies like Bitcoin are testing the limits of our belief in the intangible aspects of 'value'. As we continue navigating these uncharted waters, it's utterly fascinating to witness the reshaping of our relationship with the very concept of financial ownership.

SHAPING THE INTANGIBLE

When the concept of digital currencies was first introduced, it represented a completely virtual form of value. This changed in 2011, when software developer Mike Caldwell of Utah decided to materialize this concept by introducing the first physical representation of Bitcoin - the Casascius Coins. Significantly, Caldwell pioneered the notion of building a crucial link between cryptology's computer wizardry and the physical world, fostering greater understanding and, quite literally, tangibility for the average person. As a materially existent currency, the physical Bitcoin embraces the long-standing norms of coinage, offering a crucial sensory element to the esoteric realm of digital currencies.

The appeal of physical Bitcoin for collectors stems from several straightforward reasons. To begin with, acquiring physical Bitcoins served as a simpler alternative to dealing with the intricacies of online platforms for many new to the cryptocurrency world. These coins also introduced a fresh way of investing and storing money, capitalizing on Bitcoin's promising potential. For early advocates, these physical tokens served as memorabilia, marking their journey during the nascent stages of the Bitcoin movement. Moreover, the sheer pleasure of collecting, along with the variety of such coins, catered to the desires of traditional collectors, marking these coins as unique additions to their portfolio of collectibles.

TO PEEL OR NOT TO PEEL

Reflecting the characteristics of its digital counterpart, funded physical Bitcoins manifest as metallic tokens etched with the initial segment of a public address and a corresponding private key. The public address is visibly displayed on the physical coin or documented on an accompanying certificate, whereas the private key is subtly placed within a recess on the flip side of the coin and remains safeguarded beneath a tamper-evident hologram.

'Peeling' in physical cryptocurrencies refers to uncovering the concealed digital value within these tangible tokens. The unique code inserted in a small 'pit' on the coin represents the digital access key to the bitcoins. With the hologram intact, the owner can be assured that the private key has not been compromised, and therefore, the stored value in Bitcoin remains unredeemed.

While 'peeling' invariably compromises the physical token by rendering it visually defaced and the concealed bitcoins accessible, it serves as the crucial bridge connecting the tactile world of numismatic collectability and the enchanting expanse of virtual, cryptographic wealth. The action is laden with mixed anticipation and pang, as it simultaneously unlocks the digital wealth for redeeming the Bitcoin, yet marks the end of the physical coin's intact aesthetic and resale value.

CASASCIUS COINS – “CALL A SPADE A SPADE”

Mike Caldwell named his venture “Casascius” which might seem strange at first, but once split apart, its meaning becomes clear. It's a portmanteau, or a combination of words, that stands for "Call a Spade a Spade." Its word-play is related to sincerity and taking things at face value, which is a reflection of the nature of blockchain technology, the underlying framework of Bitcoin. By openly recording transactions, blockchain promotes transparency and trust through traceability, echoing the sense of calling a spade a spade, or stating the truth, as is.

This association is particularly fitting for Mike Caldwell's physical Bitcoin project. The Casascius coins sought to offer physical representation; hence a face value, to the otherwise digital and entirely virtual Bitcoin, and this ethos is carried through in the name he chose for them. Casascius Coins quickly became first to offer a tangible link between traditional monetary systems and the burgeoning world of cryptocurrencies, where his coins served a purpose as trailblazing novelty items and conversation starters with the uninitiated.

Caldwell communicated the progress of his coin creations via his personal blog, titled “You asked for change, I gave you coins.” – tapping clever multi-layered symbolism.

On one level, it pays homage to the grassroots origins of Bitcoin and the excitement within the cryptocurrency community about its potential to reshape the global financial landscape. The term "change" here references this aspiration for transformation, a departure from conventional banking and financial systems. The "coins," of course, refer to his physical Casascius Bitcoins, representing this transformative potential in a tactile manner.

Furthermore, there's a subtle play on words at hand. In traditional financial parlance, "change" refers to small denominations of currency often given in coins. Caldwell breaks with tradition by offering "coins" that are potentially worth thousands, even millions, of traditional currency units, once again emphasizing the transformative power of Bitcoin. Caldwell's iconic phrase encapsulates the essence of the early cryptocurrency movement's intent - a bold call for a new era in finance, delivering that change in the form of his Casascius coins.

Caldwell ultimately released tens of thousands of coins – it is estimated that nearly 28,000 funded Casascius coins were made between 2011 to 2013, each holding a varying amount of Bitcoin, from 0.1 to 1000 BTC, to the total holding value of over 90,000 BTC. Caldwell also released a large number of non-denominated and unfunded aluminium coins for promotional purposes. The rarest and most valuable of all Casascius coins are the 1,000 BTC coins made of 1 troy ounce of pure gold, one selling for $1,000,000 already in November 2013 – yet with today's Bitcoin value alone, it is worth nearly $30,000,000 (September 2023).

The initial popularity of these physical coins made waves in the emerging digital currency market. Curiously enough, Caldwell apparently never had the desire to generate profit with his physical coins; he considered Casascius a hobby and that his “quirky collectables” aimed at a “fringe audience” would make a funny story someday. As the popularity of his coins propelled higher, more coin formats and improved features, such as elaborately designed holograms were introduced. Many other manufacturers soon followed his inspirational example, but Caldwell has always been considered the father of the physical cryptocurrency phenomenon.

Caldwell's initial success and fame caught the attention of U.S. authorities. In 2013, the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN) within the U.S. Treasury Department argued that his operation effectively acted as a money transmitter and as such, fell under the framework of a Money Service Business (MSB). FinCEN's guidance dated 18th March 2013 clarified that the regulations apply to those who create, buy, and sell digital currency. Their reasoning was that physical Bitcoin manufacturers who funded coins effectively transmitted crypto-currency to public addresses, thereby classifying them as ‘administrators’ in issuing and redeeming digital currencies. Under existing financial regulations, therefore, ‘minting’ physical representations of a digital currency crossed into the territory of financial services.

Consequently, Caldwell was required to register Casascius as a Money Services Business (MSB) in order to comply with U.S financial laws and to continue his operations. Recognising the enormity of these implications, Caldwell made the strategic decision to halt the production of Casascius coins. The unexpected end of minting resulted in a limited supply of these original physical Bitcoins. As a result, Casascius coins have steadily acquired a certain degree of rarity and allure among cryptocurrency enthusiasts and collectors, contributing to their value in the collectors' market.

The allure of Casascius coins is heightened by the fact that a significant number of these coins – reportedly around 20% - have had their embedded Bitcoin digital value redeemed or ‘peeled’. Therefore, the pool of unpeeled, untampered Casascius coins is ever diminishing, augmenting their scarcity. Today, these coins are not only sought-after collectors' items, but they also denote a significant milestone in the history of financial transactions.

ABOUT COIN GRADING

Coin grading is an intricate practice that evaluates the authenticity, condition, and quality of coins, thereby playing a part in determining their market value. This process ranges from assessing fundamental aspects like wear from circulation and any potential damage to inspecting finer details such as the sharpness of the strike, the patina of the surfaces, and the coin's luster. Over time, professional organizations including Numismatic Guaranty Corporation (NGC) and the Professional Coin Grading Service (PCGS) have developed elaborate numerical grading scales to provide consistent, objective standards for evaluating coins.

The advent of physical cryptocurrency has added a new dimension to this traditional practice. Physical cryptocurrency, often in the form of commemorative tokens or practical storage devices, carry distinctive codes that represent digital Bitcoin assets. Conceptually, the grading process mirrors that of regular coins. However, it calls for additional parameters considering the functional aspect of these coins. Special emphasis is given to the integrity of the embedded code and possible QR codes, the latter allowing the transfer of the Bitcoin to digital wallets. Notwithstanding the innovation they represent, the intrinsic aesthetic value and historical significance of physical cryptocurrency maintain their relevance within the ambit of traditional numismatic evaluation. Therefore, while there are indeed profound similarities, this novel asset class also requires a nuanced appreciation of its unique features when formulating its grading criteria.

From the hands of the iconic Joe DiMaggio, his American Express Credit Card stands as a monumental artifact bridging the past, where currency was physically held, with today's era of digital 'wealth'. This intimate relic is one of the earliest known credit cards and offers a compelling narrative on the transformative story of financial evolution.

INTRODUCING THE OTOH COLLECTION

Rounding up to the present day, Heritage Auctions is pleased to present for sale The Otoh Collection, so named after the bitcointalk.org forum username behind this remarkable accumulation of Casascius Coins. On this forum, Otoh - standing for 'on the other hand', is known for displaying a thoughtful approach to future trends in the realm of cryptocurrency. He emphasizes scenario analysis, carefully exploring alternate outcomes and prospects. He consistently seeks to balance viewpoints, always contemplating what is 'on the other hand' to provide comprehensive commentary in the complex world of digital finance.

The collection at hand is part of the legacy and the story of the remarkable journey of our client, an early adopter of physical Bitcoin, who possessed the foresight to engage directly with its creators in the nascent stages of its development. All the Casascius coins in this collection are directly obtained from Mike Caldwell, Casascius' mastermind, providing a certain intimacy to their ownership.

The collection in this auction comprises 250 unpeeled, unredeemed coins all graded by NGC upon receiving the submission through Heritage Auctions. A selection of one hundred and fifty 1 BTC and a hundred 0.5 BTC Casascius Coins from Series 2 issued in 2013 will be offered in this landmark session, which promises to be one of the most anticipated and important single-owner collections of physical cryptocurrency to ever come to market.

Embodying the fusion of technology and security in currency evolution, the 1970's Australian polymer test notes represent milestones in the unending race against counterfeiting. They serve as tangible witnesses to a history of relentless innovation such as the holographic elements, offering a rare glimpse into the formative stages of modern banknote technology.

OTOH'S BIOGRAPHY

Launching their crypto journey in the summer of 2011, our client ventured into the Bitcoin ecosystem and later, the burgeoning world of Altcoins. Notably, they were among the earliest adopters of the first Altcoin, Litecoin, becoming their largest holder in 2013.

Subsequent investments also included a significant holding in the DASH Altcoin and a noteworthy initial participation in the Ethereum ICO, buying upwards of 210,000 ETH. Though these were sold immediately post-launch for a Bitcoin profit, the early engagement with Ethereum remains a notable chapter in their investment journey.

In 2021, their net worth robustly increased, marking their best accomplishment thus far in the crypto universe. Moreover, a successful diversification strategy over the past decade has seen the nurturing of a healthy portfolio encompassing startups, real estate, art, and collectibles. Our client has a particular passion for renovating distinctive properties in his global portfolio. This achievement poignantly stands in stark contrast to their experience of homelessness in the UK during the 1990s.

Their resourceful venture capitalism journey also entailed an initial investment in the highly-rated crypto portfolio tracking app Blockfolio in its start-up phase, playing a crucial role in getting the app off the ground. Even though the app was later acquired by Sam Bankman-Fried of the now controversial FTX exchange, our client's early involvement remains a testament to their progressive vision in such a rapidly evolving landscape. This decade-long adventure in what can only be described as the 'Wild West' era of cryptocurrencies has shaped our consignor into the successful, diversified collector they are today.

Noted for his philanthropic spirit, Otoh, driven by his prosperous Bitcoin investment, substantively enhances lives across numerous fronts - from sponsoring orphaned youth and art students' growth to numerous other initiatives that help positively influence various community endeavors – including the British Museum.

CONCLUDING REMARKS

The narrative of currency, from the earliest days of trade to the current digital era, is an absorbing journey that mirrors the progression of civilization itself. The evolution of currency provides a fascinating lens through which we can examine the consistency and malleability of the connotations we attach to 'value'.

In earlier epochs, the tangible tang of salt, the allure of gold, and the inherent utility of cattle formed the first currencies. They were straightforward representations of worth; their value derived directly from their use or rarity.

Next, came coinage, minted from precious metals. Coins represented a leap forward in standardising value, epitomised by the Lydian lion, widely accepted to be the world's first coined currency. The shift to coins meant that value could now be symbolized, opening paths to trade and commerce that carried the seeds of the economies we recognize today.

Paper currency, which followed in various parts of the world, further abstracted value. The shift from coins to notes signified another monumental move, detaching currency from an intrinsic worth to a value embossed upon pieces of paper or inscribed in ledgers. Yet, despite this shift, each currency bore the mark of central monetary authorities, a testament to their role in shaping the flow and dynamics of capital across the globe.

The onset of the 21st century heralded another paradigm shift, the advent of cryptocurrency. Bitcoin, the original cryptocurrency, combined cryptographic principles and peer-to-peer networking to birth a decentralized financial system, without the need for a central authority. This was an audacious reimagining of currency, transferring trust from institutions to complex algorithms and consensus networks.

Therefore, it is only natural evolution for numismatics to reveal treasures like the Casascius Coins, contemporary numismatic marvels that blend past and future in their innovative design.

These coins, physical representations of Bitcoin, stand as testament to the ever-evolving nature of currency, constantly challenging its own conventions and boundaries. They relay the stirring narrative of a digital revolution that transcends geographical boundaries, disrupting traditional financial systems and shaping a new global economy. The Casascius Coins, much like their ancient counterparts, remain enduring symbols of their age, infusing technology with tradition to craft a mosaic of societal transformation imprinted on each coin's surface. Consequently, they are much more than just collector's items; they are the artifacts of our times, epitomizing the restless spirit of innovation that characterizes the digital era.

The story of currency, from antiquity to crypto, is far from over. Indeed, digital ledgers, blockchain technologies, and the continued evolution of technologies promise to introduce yet unimagined transformations to our understanding of money. Across the ages, while the form of currency may change, its central role does not: to serve as a medium of exchange, a store of value, and a unit of account that facilitates human interaction and progress. The saga of currency will undoubtedly continue to evolve, mirroring the dynamism and complexities of the societies that forge it.

Embedded within this Casascius brass Bitcoin from 2013 rests a treasure trove of untapped digital potential. This unredeemed unit, part of the esteemed OTOH collection, symbolizes an extraordinary intersection of tangible and intangible value. Journeying towards the future, it continues to attract believers of unexplored digital frontiers and collectors of rare technological memorabilia alike.

Terms and Conditions of Auction

Auctioneer and Auction:

1. This Auction is presented by Heritage Auctions, a d/b/a/ of Heritage Auctioneers & Galleries, Inc., Heritage Auctions, Inc., Heritage Collectibles, Inc., Heritage Luxury Property Auctions, Inc., Heritage Numismatic Auctions, Inc., Heritage Vintage Sports Auctions, Inc., Currency Auctions of America, Inc., Heritage Auctions (HK) Limited, or Heritage Auctions – Europe Cooperatief U.A. as identified with the applicable licensing information on the title page of the catalog or on the HA.com Internet site (the “Auctioneer”). The Auction is conducted under these Terms and Conditions of Auction and applicable state and local law. Announcements and corrections from the podium and those made through the Terms and Conditions of Auctions appearing on the Internet at HA.com supersede those in the printed catalog.

Buyer's Premium:

2. All bids are subject to a Buyer's Premium which is in addition to the placed successful bid. The Buyer's Premium for each Auction is published by Auctioneer in the printed catalog and on the Internet.

Bidders:

3. Any person participating or registering for the Auction agrees to be bound by and accepts these Terms and Conditions of Auction (“Bidder(s)”).
4. All Bidders must meet Auctioneer's qualifications to bid. Any Bidder who is not a client in good standing of the Auctioneer may be disqualified at Auctioneer's sole option and will not be awarded lots. Such determination may be made by Auctioneer in its sole and unlimited discretion, at any time prior to, during, or even after the close of the Auction. Auctioneer reserves the right to exclude any person from the auction.
5. If an entity places a bid, then the person executing the bid on behalf of the entity agrees to personally guarantee payment for any successful bid.

Credit:

6. In order to place bids, Bidders who have not established credit with the Auctioneer must either furnish satisfactory credit information (including two collectibles-related business references) or supply valid credit card information along with a social security number, well in advance of the Auction. Internet bids will only be accepted from pre-registered Bidders. Bidders who are not members of HA.com or affiliates should preregister at least 48 hours before the start of the first session (exclusive of holidays or weekends) to allow adequate time to contact references. Credit will be granted at the discretion of Auctioneer. Auctioneer may, in its sole discretion, require a deposit in good funds of twenty-five percent (25%) of the amount of each bid prior to acceptance of the bid. Additionally Bidders who have not previously established credit or who wish to bid in excess of their established credit history may be required to provide their social security so a credit check may be performed prior to Auctioneer's acceptance of a bid. Settlement via check and immediate delivery of merchandise may also be determined by pre-approval of credit based on a combination of: HA.com history, related industry references, bank verification, a credit bureau report and/or a personal guarantee for a corporate or partnership entity in advance of the auction.

Bidding Options:

7. Auctioneer accepts bids from the Internet, telephone, fax, mail, floor, and HeritageLive! from registered clients.
8. Bids in Signature" Auctions may be placed as set forth in the printed catalog section entitled "Choose your bidding method." For auctions held solely on the Internet, see the alternatives on HA.com. Review at <http://www.ha.com/c/ref/web-tips.zx#biddingTutorial>.
9. Presentment of Bids: Non-Internet bids (including but not limited to podium, fax, phone and mail bids) and floor bids must be on-increment or at a half increment ("Cut Bid"). Any podium, fax, phone, or mail bids that do not conform to a full or half increment will be rounded up or down to the nearest full or half increment and this revised amount will be considered your high bid.
10. Auctioneer's Execution of Certain Bids. Auctioneer cannot be responsible for your errors in bidding or entry of bids. When identical mail or fax bids are submitted, preference is given to the first received. To ensure the greatest accuracy, written bids should be entered on the standard printed bid sheet and received by Auctioneer at least two business days prior to Auction start. Auctioneer is not responsible for executing mail bids or fax bids received on or after the day the first lot is sold, nor Internet bids submitted after the published closing time; nor is Auctioneer responsible for proper execution of bids submitted by telephone, mail, fax, email, Internet, or in person once Auction begins. Bids placed electronically via the internet may not be withdrawn until your written request is received and acknowledged by Auctioneer (FAX: 214-409-1425); such requests must state the reason, and may constitute grounds for withdrawal of bidding privileges. Lots won by mail Bidders will not be delivered at the Auction unless prearranged.
11. Bid Increments. Bid increments (over the current bid level) determine the lowest amount you may bid on a particular lot. Bids greater than one increment over the current bid can be any whole dollar amount. It is possible under several circumstances for winning bids to be between increments, sometimes only $1 above the previous increment. Please see: "How can I lose by less than an increment?" on our website. Bids will be accepted in whole dollar amounts only. No "buy" or "unlimited" bids will be accepted.

Current bidding increments during any live auction session or components thereof (e.g. mail/fax bids and LiveProxy bidding) (see HA.com/c/ref/web-tips.zx#guidelines-increments) are:

Current Bid	Bid Increment	Current Bid	Bid Increment
< $10	$1	$10,000 - $19,999	$1,000
$10 - $49	$2	$20,000 - $49,999	$2,000
$50 - $99	$5	$50,000 - $99,999	$5,000
$100 - $199	$10	$100,000 - $199,999	$10,000
$200 - $499	$20	$200,000 - $499,999	$20,000
$500 - $999	$50	$500,000 - $999,999	$25,000
$1,000 - $1,999	$100	$1,000,000 - $1,999,999	$50,000
$2,000 - $4,999	$200	$2,000,000 - $9,999,999	$100,000
$5,000 - $9,999	$500	>= $10,000,000	$200,000

Note: Half-increment bidding is available prior to the live auction session.

12. If Auctioneer calls for a full increment, Bidder may request Auctioneer to accept a Cut Bid only once per lot. After offering a Cut Bid, Bidder may continue to bid on lot only at full increments. Off-increment bids may be accepted by the Auctioneer at Signature" Auctions. Bids solicited by Auctioneer at other than the expected increment will not be considered Cut Bids.

Conducting the Auction:

13. Notice of the consignor's liberty to place bids on his lots in the Auction is hereby made in accordance with Article 2 of the Texas Business and Commercial Code. A "Minimum Bid" is an amount below which the lot will not sell. THE CONSIGNOR OF PROPERTY MAY PLACE WRITTEN "Minimum Bids" ON HIS LOTS IN ADVANCE OF THE AUCTION; ON SUCH LOTS, IF THE HAMMER PRICE DOES NOT MEET THE "Minimum Bid", THE CONSIGNOR MAY PAY A REDUCED COMMISSION ON THOSE LOTS. "Minimum Bids" are generally posted online several days prior to the Auction closing. Any successful bid placed by a consignor on his property on the Auction floor, by any means during the live session, or after the "Minimum Bid" for an Auction have been posted, will require the consignor to pay full Buyer's Premium and Seller's Commissions on such lot. Auctioneer or its affiliates expressly reserve the right to modify any such bids at any time prior to the hammer based upon data made known to the Auctioneer or its affiliates.
14. The highest qualified Bidder recognized by the Auctioneer shall be the Buyer. In the event of a tie bid, the earliest bid received or recognized wins. In the event of any dispute between any Bidders at an Auction, Auctioneer may at his sole discretion reoffer the lot. Auctioneer's decision and declaration of the winning Bidder shall be final and binding upon all Bidders. Bids properly offered, whether by floor Bidder or other means of bidding, may on occasion be missed or go unrecognized; in such cases, the Auctioneer may declare the recognized bid accepted as the winning bid, regardless of whether a competing bid may have been higher. Auctioneer reserves the right after the hammer fall to accept bids and reopen bidding for bids placed through the Internet or otherwise. Regardless of placed bids, Auctioneer reserves the right to withdraw any lot, or any part of a lot, from Auction at any time prior to the opening of any such lot by the auctioneer (crier), or in the case of Internet-only auctions when the bid opens for either live Internet bidding or the beginning of any extended period.

15. Auctioneer reserves the right to refuse to honor any bid or to limit the amount of any bid, in its sole discretion. A bid is considered not made in "Good Faith" when made by an insolvent or irresponsible person, a person under the age of eighteen, or is not supported by satisfactory credit, references, or otherwise. Regardless of the disclosure of his identity, any bid by a consignor or his agent on a lot consigned by him is deemed to be made in "Good Faith." Any person apparently appearing on the OFAC list is not eligible to bid.
16. Nominal Bids. The Auctioneer in its sole discretion may reject nominal bids, small opening bids, or very nominal advances.
17. Lots bearing bidding estimates shall open at Auctioneer's discretion (generally 40%-60% of the low estimate). In the event that no bid meets or exceeds that opening amount, the lot shall pass as unsold or the Auctioneer may place a protective bid on behalf of the consignor.
18. All items are to be purchased per lot as numerically indicated and no lots will be broken.
19. Auctioneer reserves the right to rescind the sale in the event of nonpayment, breach of a warranty, disputed ownership, auctioneer's clerical error or omission in exercising bids and reserves, or for any other reason and in Auctioneer's sole discretion.
20. Auctioneer occasionally experiences Internet and/or Server service outages, and Auctioneer periodically schedules system downtime for maintenance and other purposes, during which Bidders cannot participate or place bids. If such outages occur, bidding may be extended at Auctioneer's discretion. Bidders unable to place their bids through the Internet are directed to contact Client Services at 877-HERITAGE (437-4824).
21. The Auctioneer, its affiliates, or their employees consign items to be sold in the Auction, and may bid on those lots or any other lots.
22. The Auctioneer may extend advances, guarantees, or loans to certain consignors.
23. The Auctioneer has the right to sell certain unsold items after the close of the Auction. Such lots shall be considered sold during the Auction and all these Terms and Conditions shall apply to such sales including but not limited to the Buyer's Premium, return rights, and disclaimers.

Payment:

24. All sales are strictly for cash in United States dollars (including U.S. currency, bank wire, cashier checks, travelers checks, eChecks, and bank money orders, and are subject to all reporting requirements). All deliveries are subject to good funds; funds being received in Auctioneer's account before delivery of the merchandise; and all payments are subject to a clearing period. Auctioneer reserves the right to determine if a check constitutes "good funds": checks drawn on a U.S. bank are subject to a ten business day hold, thirty days when drawn on an international bank. Clients with pre-arranged credit may receive immediate credit for payments via eCheck, personal, or corporate checks. All others will be subject to a hold of 5 business days, or more, for the funds to clear prior to releasing merchandise. (Ref. T&C item 7 Credit for additional information.) Payments can be made 24-48 hours post auction from the My Orders page of the HA.com website. Payment via credit card (Visa, Mastercard, and Discover) will be accepted upon prior approval by Auctioneer. All payments by credit card will incur a surcharge of 2.5%. Payment by eCheck, wire transfer, or check will not incur a surcharge. This fee only applies to credit transactions, and does not exceed Auctioneer's cost of processing.
25. Payment is due upon closing of the Auction session, or upon presentment of an invoice. Auctioneer reserves the right to void an invoice if payment in full is not received within 7 days after Auction close. In cases of nonpayment, Auctioneer's election to void a sale does not relieve the Bidder from their obligation to pay Auctioneer its fees (seller's and buyer's premium) on the lot and any other damages pertaining to the lot or Auctioneer. Alternatively, Auctioneer at its sole option, may charge a twenty (20%) fee based on the amount of the purchase. In either case the Auctioneer may offset amount of its claim against any monies owing to the Bidder or secure its claim against any of the Bidder's properties held by the Auctioneer.
26. Purchased lots may be subject to taxes or fees imposed by various foreign taxing agencies. Buyer is responsible for paying all foreign imposed taxes whether VAT, GST, etc. prior to delivery unless other arrangements are made in writing. Lots delivered to Buyer, or Buyer's representative are subject to all applicable state and local taxes, unless appropriate permits are on file with Auctioneer. Should state sales tax become applicable in the state for delivery prior to delivery of the property on the invoice, Buyer agrees to pay all applicable state sales tax as required by the delivery state as of the shipping date. Buyer agrees to pay Auctioneer the actual amount of tax due in the event that sales tax is not properly collected due to: 1) an expired, inaccurate, or inappropriate tax certificate or declaration, 2) an incorrect interpretation of the applicable statute, 3) or any other reason. The appropriate form or certificate must be on file at and verified by Auctioneer five days prior to Auction, or tax must be paid; only if such form or certificate is received by Auctioneer within 4 days after Auction can a refund of tax paid be made. Lots from different Auctions may not be aggregated for sales tax purposes.
27. In the event that Buyer's payment is dishonored upon presentment(s), Buyer shall pay the maximum statutory processing fee set by applicable state law. If Buyer attempts to pay via eCheck and Buyer's financial institution denies this bank account, or the payment cannot be completed using the selected funding source, Buyer agrees to complete payment using your credit card on file (subject to the surcharge detailed in paragraph 24).
28. If any Auction invoice submitted by Auctioneer is not paid in full when due, the unpaid balance will bear interest at the highest rate permitted by law from the date of invoice until paid. Any invoice not paid when due will bear a three percent (3%) late fee on the invoice amount. If the Auctioneer refers any invoice to an attorney for collection, Buyer agrees to pay attorney's fees, court costs, and other collection costs incurred by Auctioneer. If Auctioneer assigns collection to its in-house legal staff, such attorney's time expended on the matter shall be compensated at a rate comparable to the hourly rate of independent attorneys.
29. In the event Buyer fails to pay any amounts due, Buyer authorizes Auctioneer to charge the Buyer's credit card on file with Auctioneer in the amount required to pay the invoice in full or sell the lot(s) securing the invoice to any underbidders in the Auction that the lot(s) appeared, or at subsequent private or public sale, or relist the lot(s) in a future auction conducted by Auctioneer. A defaulting Buyer agrees to pay for the reasonable costs of resale (including a 15% seller's commission, if consigned to an auction conducted by Auctioneer). The defaulting Buyer is liable to pay any difference between his total original invoice for the lot(s), plus any applicable interest, and the net proceeds for the lot(s) if sold at private sale or the subsequent hammer price of the lot(s) less the 15% seller's commissions, if sold at an Auctioneer's auction.
30. Title shall not pass to Buyer until all invoices are paid in full. Auctioneer shall have a lien against the merchandise purchased by Buyer to secure payment of any and all outstanding Auction invoices. Auctioneer is further granted a lien and the right to retain possession of any other property of Buyer then held by Auctioneer or its affiliates to secure payment of any Auction invoice or any other amounts due Auctioneer or affiliates from Buyer. With respect to these lien rights, Auctioneer shall have all the rights of a secured creditor under Article 9 of the Texas Uniform Commercial Code, including but not limited to the right of sale (including a 15% seller's commission, if consigned to an auction conducted by Auctioneer). Any Heritage foreclosure auction venue is deemed a reasonably commercial sale. In addition, with respect to payment of the Auction invoice(s), Buyer waives any and all rights of offset he might otherwise have against Auctioneer and the consignor of the merchandise included on the invoice. If Buyer owes Auctioneer or its affiliates on any account, Auctioneer and its affiliates shall have the right to offset such unpaid account by any credit balance due Buyer, and it may secure by possessory lien any unpaid amount by any of the Buyer's property in their possession.

Delivery, Shipping, and Handling Charges:

31. Buyer is liable for all shipping, handling, registration, and renewal fees, if any. Please refer to Auctioneer's website HA.com/c/shipping.zx for the latest charges or call Auctioneer. Auctioneer is unable to combine purchases from other auctions or affiliates into one package for shipping purposes. Merchandise will be shipped in a commercially reasonable time after payment in good funds for the merchandise and the shipping fees is received or credit extended, except when third-party shipment occurs. Buyer on lots designated for third-party shipment must designate the common carrier, accept risk of loss, and prepay shipping costs. Buyer agrees that Service and Handling charges related to shipping items which are not pre-paid may be charged to the credit card on file with Auctioneer (subject to the surcharge detailed in paragraph 24).

32. Successful international Bidders shall provide written shipping instructions, including specified customs declarations, to Auctioneer for any lots to be delivered outside of the United States. NOTE: Declaration value shall be the item(s) hammer price together with its buyer's premium and Auctioneer shall use the correct harmonized code for the lot.
33. On all shipments in which Auctioneer charges the Delivery, Handling, and Transit Fee infra, any risk of loss during shipment will be borne by Auctioneer until the common carrier's confirmation of delivery to the address of record in Auctioneer's file, this is the "Secure Location". A common carrier's confirmation is conclusive to prove delivery to Buyer; if the client has a Signature release on file with the carrier, the package is considered delivered without Signature. Auctioneer shall arrange, select, and engage common carriers and other transportation vendors on your behalf. Transit services are subject to the following terms and conditions:
 - a. Scope of Transit Services: Merchandise for transit will be insured under one or more insurance policies issued by an authorized broker to Auctioneer. The merchandise will be insured for the invoice price of the properties (hammer price plus Buyer's Premium) ("Insured Value"). For each shipment, Buyer will provide a Secure Location to which the items will be delivered. NOTICE: Auctioneer is neither an insurance company nor a common carrier of any type.
 - b. Auctioneer's Compensation for Transit Services: Auctioneer will provide transit services to Buyer for ¼ of 1% of the Insured Value, plus packaging and handling fees and fees for the common carrier (collectively, "Delivery, Handling, and Transit Fee"). Buyer agrees to pay Delivery, Handling, and Transit Fee and comply with all terms of payment as set forth herein.
 - c. Auctioneer's Limitation of Liability for Transit Services: Buyer understands and agrees that Auctioneer's liability for loss of or damage to the items, if any, ends when the items have been delivered to the Secure Location, and Auctioneer has received evidence of delivery. Any claim that property has sustained loss or damage during transit must be reported to Auctioneer within seventy-two (72) hours of the delivery date. Any recovery for loss of or damage to any merchandise is limited to the lesser of actual cash value of the merchandise or the Insured Value. Under no circumstances is Auctioneer liable for consequential or punitive damages.
34. It shall be the responsibility for Buyer to arrange pick-up or shipping in a timely manner (within 10 days). Merchandise will be subject to storage and moving charges, including a $100 administration fee plus $10 daily storage for larger items and $5 daily for smaller items (storage fee per item) after 35 days. In the event the merchandise is not removed within ninety days, the merchandise may be offered for sale to recover any past due storage or moving fees, including a 20% Seller's Commission.
35. A. NOTICE OF CITES COMPLIANCE: The purchase of items made from protected species: Any property made of or incorporating endangered or protected species or wildlife may have import and/or export restrictions established by the Convention of International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (CITES) in various countries and domestically. Plant and animal properties include (but are not limited to) items made of (or including) Brazilian rosewood, ivory, whalebone, turtle shell, coral, crocodile, alligator, lizard, or other wildlife. These items may not be available to ship internationally or, in some cases, domestically. Domestic bans and restrictions exist in these states: 1) California state law prohibits the importation of any product containing Python skin into the State of California, thus no lot containing Python skin will be shipped to or invoiced to a person or company in California. 2) Fossil Ivory is currently banned or restricted in 5 U.S. states: New York, New Jersey, California, Hawaii, and New Mexico. By placing a bid, the bidder acknowledges that he or she is aware of any restriction in their country or place of residence and takes responsibility for: 1) obtaining all information on such restricted items for both export and import; 2) obtaining all such licenses and/or permits. Delay, failure, or incapacity to obtain any such license or permit does not relieve the buyer of timely payment or afford them the capacity to void their purchase or payment. Lots containing potentially regulated wildlife material are noted in the description as a convenience to our clients. Heritage Auctions does not accept liability for errors or failure to mark lots containing protected or regulated species. For further assistance, please contact client services at 1-800-872-6467.
35. B. California State law prohibits the importation of any product containing Python skin into the State of California. No merchandise containing Python skin will be shipped to or invoiced to a person or company in California.
35. C. Auctioneer shall not be liable for any loss caused by or resulting from:
 - a. Seizure or destruction under quarantine or Customs regulation, or confiscation by order of any Government or public authority, or risks of contraband or illegal transportation of trade, or
 - b. Breakage of statuary, marble, glassware, bric-a-brac, porcelains, jewelry, and similar fragile articles.
36. Any request for shipping verification for undelivered packages must be made within 30 days of shipment by Auctioneer.

Cataloging, Warranties, and Disclaimers:

37. NO WARRANTY, WHETHER EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED, IS MADE WITH RESPECT TO ANY DESCRIPTION CONTAINED IN THIS AUCTION OR ANY SECOND OPINE. Any description of merchandise or second opine contained in this Auction is for the sole purpose of identifying merchandise for those Bidders who do not have the opportunity to view merchandise prior to bidding, and no description of merchandise has been made part of the basis of the bargain or has created any express warranty that merchandise would conform to any description made by Auctioneer. Color variations can be expected in any electronic or printed imaging, and are not grounds for the return of any lot. NOTE: Auctioneer, in specified auction venues, e.g. Fine Art, may have express written warranties and Bidder is referred to those specific terms and conditions.
38. Auctioneer is selling only such right or title to merchandise being sold as Auctioneer may have by virtue of consignment agreements on the date of auction and disclaims any warranty of title to the merchandise. Auctioneer disclaims any warranty of merchantability or fitness for any particular purposes. All images, descriptions, sales data, and archival records are the exclusive property of Auctioneer, and may be used by Auctioneer for advertising, promotion, archival records, and any other uses deemed appropriate.
39. Translations of foreign language documents may be provided as a convenience to interested parties. Auctioneer makes no representation as to the accuracy of those translations and will not be held responsible for errors in bidding arising from inaccuracies in translation.
40. Auctioneer disclaims all liability for damages, consequential or otherwise, arising out of or in connection with the sale of any merchandise by Auctioneer to Bidder. No third party may rely on any benefit of these Terms and Conditions and any rights, if any, established hereunder are personal to Bidder and may not be assigned. Any statement made by the Auctioneer is an opinion and does not constitute a warranty or representation. No employee of Auctioneer may alter these Terms and Conditions, and, unless signed by a principal of Auctioneer, any such alteration is null and void.
41. Auctioneer shall not be liable for breakage of glass or damage to frames (patent or latent); such defects, in any event, shall not be a basis for return or reduction in purchase price.

Release:

42. In consideration of participation in Auction and the placing of a bid, Bidder expressly releases Auctioneer, its officers, directors and employees, its affiliates, and its outside experts that provide second opinions, from any and all claims, cause of action, chose of action, whether at law or equity or any arbitration or mediation rights existing under the rules of any professional society or affiliation based upon the assigned description, or a derivative theory, breach of warranty express or implied, representation or other matter set forth within these Terms and Conditions of Auction or otherwise. In the event of a claim, Bidder agrees that such rights and privileges conferred therein are strictly construed as specifically declared herein, and are the exclusive remedy. Bidder, by non-compliance to these express terms of a granted remedy, shall waive any claim against Auctioneer.
43. Notice: Some merchandise sold by Auctioneer is inherently dangerous e.g. firearms, cannons, and small items that may be swallowed or ingested or may have latent defects all of which may cause harm to a person. Buyer accepts all risk of loss or damage from its purchase of these items and Auctioneer disclaims any liability whether under contract or tort for damages and losses, direct or inconsequential, and expressly disclaims any warranty as to safety or usage of any lot sold.

Dispute Resolution, Arbitration, and Remedies:

By placing a bid or otherwise participating in Auction, Bidder accepts these Terms and Conditions of Auction, and specifically agrees to the dispute resolution provided herein.

44. Exclusive Dispute Resolution Process: All claims, disputes, or controversies in connection with, relating to, and/or arising out of Bidder's participation in Auction or purchase of any lot, any interpretation of the Terms and Conditions of Sale or any amendments thereto, any description of any lot or condition report, any damage to any lot, any alleged verbal modification of any term of sale or condition report or description, and/or any purported settlement whether asserted in contract, tort, under Federal or State statute or regulation, or any claim made by Bidder of a lot or Bidder's participation in Auction involving the auction or a specific lot involving a warranty or representation of a consignor or other person or entity including Auctioneer [which claim Bidder consents to be made a party] (collectively, "Claim") shall be exclusively heard by, and the claimant (or respondent) and Auctioneer each consent to the Claim being presented in a confidential binding arbitration before a single arbitrator administrated by and conducted under the rules of, the American Arbitration Association. The locale for all such arbitrations shall be Dallas, Texas. The arbitrator's award may be enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction. In the event that any Claim needs to be litigated, including actions to compel arbitration, construe the agreement, actions in aid of arbitration, or otherwise, such litigation shall be exclusively in the Courts of the State of Texas, in Dallas County, Texas, and if necessary the corresponding appellate courts. If a Claim involves a consumer, exclusive subject matter jurisdiction for the Claim is in the State District Courts of Dallas County, Texas and the consumer consents to subject matter and in personam jurisdiction; further CONSUMER EXPRESSLY WAIVES ANY RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY. A consumer may elect arbitration as specified above. Any claim involving the purchase or sale of numismatic or related items may be submitted through binding PNG arbitration. A Claim is not subject to class certification.
45. Choice of Law: Agreement and any Claim shall be determined and construed under Texas law. For auctions conducted by Heritage Auctions (HK) Limited, any Agreement and any Claim shall be determined and construed under Hong Kong law.
46. Fees and Costs: The prevailing party (a party that is awarded substantial and material relief on its damage claim based on damages sought versus awarded or the successful defense of a Claim based on damages sought versus awarded) may be awarded reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.
47. Remedies: Any Claim must be brought within two (2) years of the alleged breach, default or misrepresentation or the Claim is waived. After one (1) year has elapsed, Auctioneer's maximum liability shall be limited to any commissions and fees Auctioneer earned on that lot. Auctioneer in no event shall be responsible for consequential damages, incidental damages, compensatory damages, or any other damages arising or claimed to be arising from the auction of any lot. Exemplary or punitive damages are not permitted and are waived. In the event that Auctioneer cannot deliver the lot or subsequently it is established that the lot lacks title, or other transfer or condition issue is claimed, in such cases the sole remedy shall be limited to rescission of sale and refund of the amount paid by Buyer; in no case shall Auctioneer's maximum liability exceed the high bid on that lot, which bid shall be deemed for all purposes the value of the lot. In the event of an attribution error, Auctioneer may at its sole discretion, correct the error on the Internet, or, if discovered at a later date, refund Buyer's purchase price without further obligation. Nothing herein shall be construed to extend the time of return or conditions and restrictions for return.
48. These Terms & Conditions provide specific remedies for occurrences in the auction and delivery process. Where such remedies are afforded, they shall be interpreted strictly. Bidder agrees that any claim shall utilize such remedies; Bidder making a claim in excess of those remedies provided in these Terms and Conditions agrees that in no case whatsoever shall Auctioneer's maximum liability exceed the high bid on that lot, which bid shall be deemed for all purposes the value of the lot.

Miscellaneous:

49. Agreements between Bidders and consignors to effectuate a non-sale of an item at Auction, inhibit bidding on a consigned item to enter into a private sale agreement for said item, or to utilize Auctioneer's Auction to obtain sales for non-selling consigned items subsequent to Auction, are strictly prohibited. If a subsequent sale of a previously consigned item occurs in violation of this provision, Auctioneer reserves the right to charge Bidder the applicable Buyer's Premium and consignor a Seller's Commission as determined for each auction venue and by the terms of the seller's agreement.
50. Acceptance of these Terms and Conditions qualifies Bidder as a client who has consented to be contacted by Heritage in the future. In conformity with "do-not-call" regulations promulgated by the Federal or State regulatory agencies, participation by Bidder is affirmative consent to being contacted at the phone number shown in his application and this consent shall remain in effect until it is revoked in writing. Heritage may from time to time contact Bidder concerning sale, purchase, and auction opportunities available through Heritage and its affiliates and subsidiaries.
51. Rules of Construction: Auctioneer presents properties in a number of collectible fields, and as such, specific venues have promulgated supplemental Terms and Conditions. Nothing herein shall be construed to waive the general Terms and Conditions of Auction by these additional rules and shall be construed to give force and effect to the rules in their entirety.

Notice as to an Auction in Texas. Notice is hereby given that the auctioneer is licensed by the Texas Department of Professional Licensing and Regulation, and any concerns may be addressed to Department at P. O. Box 12157, Austin, TX 78711, (512) 463-6599, or <https://www.tdlr.texas.gov/>.

Additional Terms & Conditions: COINS & CURRENCY

COINS & CURRENCY TERM A: Signature® Auctions are not on approval. No certified material may be returned because of possible differences of opinion with respect to the grade offered by any third-party organization, dealer, or service. No guarantee of grade is offered for uncertified Property sold and subsequently submitted to a third-party grading service. There are absolutely no exceptions to this policy. Under extremely limited circumstances, (e.g. gross cataloging error) a purchaser, who did not bid from the floor, may request Auctioneer to evaluate voiding a sale: such request must be made in writing detailing the alleged gross error; submission of the lot to the Auctioneer must be pre-approved by the Auctioneer; and bidder must notify Ron Brackemyre (1-800-872-6467 Ext. 1312) in writing of such request within three (3) days of the non-floor bidder's receipt of the lot. Any lot that is to be evaluated must be in our offices within 30 days after Auction. Grading or method of manufacture do not qualify for this evaluation process nor do such complaints constitute a basis to challenge the authenticity of a lot. AFTER THAT 30-DAY PERIOD, NO LOTS MAY BE RETURNED FOR REASONS OTHER THAN AUTHENTICITY. Lots returned must be housed intact in their original holder. No lots purchased by floor Bidders may be returned (including those Bidders acting as agents for others) except for authenticity. Late remittance for purchases may be considered just cause to revoke all return privileges.

COINS & CURRENCY TERM B: Auctions conducted solely on the Internet THREE (3) DAY RETURN POLICY: Certified Coin and Uncertified and Certified Currency lots paid for within seven days of the Auction closing are sold with a three (3) day return privilege unless otherwise noted in the description as "Sold As Is, No Return Lot". You may return lots under the following conditions: Within three days of receipt of the lot, you must first notify Auctioneer by contacting Client Service by phone (877-HERITAGE (437-4824)) or e-mail (Bid@HA.com), and immediately ship the lot(s) fully insured to the attention of Returns, Heritage Auctions, 2801 W. Airport Freeway, Dallas TX 75261. Lots must be housed intact in their original holder and condition. You are responsible for the insured, safe delivery of any lots. A non-negotiable return fee of 5% of the purchase price ($10 per lot minimum) will be deducted from the refund for each returned lot or billed directly. Postage and handling fees are not refunded. After the three-day period (from receipt), no items may be returned for any reason. Late remittance for purchases revokes these Return privileges.

COINS & CURRENCY TERM C: Bidders who have inspected the lots prior to any Auction, or attended the Auction, or bid through an Agent, will not be granted any return privileges, except for reasons of authenticity.

COINS & CURRENCY TERM D: Coins sold referencing a third-party grading service are sold "as is" without any express or implied warranty, except for a guarantee by Auctioneer that they are genuine. Certain warranties may be available from the grading services and the Bidder is referred to them for further details: Numismatic Guaranty Corporation (NGC), P.O. Box 4776, Sarasota, FL 34230, <http://www.ngccoin.com/services/writtenguarantee.asp>; Professional Coin Grading Service (PCGS), PO Box 9458, Newport Beach, CA 92658, <http://www.pcgs.com/guarantee.html>; ANACS, 6555 S. Kenton St. Ste. 303, Englewood, CO 80111; and Independent Coin Grading Co. (ICG), 7901 East Bellevue Ave., Suite 50, Englewood, CO 80111.

COINS & CURRENCY TERM E: Notes sold referencing a third-party grading service are sold "as is" without any express or implied warranty, except for guarantee by Auctioneer that they are genuine. Grading, condition or other attributes of any lot may have a material effect on its value, and the opinion of others, including third-party grading services such as PCGS Currency and PMG may differ with that of Auctioneer. Auctioneer shall not be bound by any prior or subsequent opinion, determination, or certification by any grading service. Bidder specifically waives any claim to right of return of any item because of the opinion, determination, or certification, or lack thereof, by any grading service. Certain warranties may be available from the grading services and the Bidder is referred to them for further details: Paper Money Guaranty (PMG), PO Box 4711, Sarasota FL 34230; PCGS Currency, PO Box 10470, Peoria, IL 61612-0470; PCGS Gold Shield, PO Box 9458, Newport Beach, CA 92658. Third-party graded notes are not returnable for any reason whatsoever.

COINS & CURRENCY TERM F: Notes graded by PCGS Currency between February 4, 2009 and January 30, 2019 were graded and authenticated by K3B, Inc. under license from Collectors Universe, Inc. K3B, Inc., now operating as Legacy Currency Grading, has expressed in writing that notes graded under the license during this time period will still be covered by the full written guaranty of PCGS Currency. Warranties may be available from Collectors Universe, Inc. for all PCGS Currency notes graded prior to February 4, 2009.

COINS & CURRENCY TERM G: Since we cannot examine encapsulated coins or notes, they are sold "as is" without our grading opinion, and may not be returned for any reason. Auctioneer shall not be liable for any patent or latent defect or controversy pertaining to or arising from any encapsulated collectible. In any such instance, purchaser's remedy, if any, shall be solely against the service certifying the collectible.

COINS & CURRENCY TERM H: Due to changing grading standards over time, differing interpretations, and to possible mishandling of items by subsequent owners, Auctioneer reserves the right to grade items differently than shown on certificates from any grading service that accompany the items. Auctioneer also reserves the right to grade items differently than the grades shown in the prior catalog should such items be reconsigned to any future auction.

COINS & CURRENCY TERM I: Although consensus grading is employed by most grading services, it should be noted as aforesaid that grading is not an exact science. In fact, it is entirely possible that if a lot is broken out of a plastic holder and resubmitted to another grading service or even to the same service, the lot could come back with a different grade assigned.

COINS & CURRENCY TERM J: Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. The degree of liquidity for certified coins and collectibles will vary according to general market conditions and the particular lot involved. For some lots there may be no active market at all at certain points in time.

COINS & CURRENCY TERM K: All non-certified coins and currency are guaranteed genuine, but are not guaranteed as to grade, since grading is a matter of opinion, an art and not a science, and therefore the opinion rendered by the Auctioneer or any third party grading service may not agree with the opinion of others (including trained experts), and the same expert may not grade the same item with the same grade at two different times. Auctioneer has graded the noncertified numismatic items, in the Auctioneer's opinion, to their current interpretation of the American Numismatic Association's standards as of the date the catalog was prepared. There is no guarantee or warranty implied or expressed that the grading standards utilized by the Auctioneer will meet the standards of any grading service at any time in the future.

COINS & CURRENCY TERM L: Storage of purchased coins and currency: Purchasers are advised that certain types of plastic may react with a coin's metal or transfer plasticizer to notes and may cause damage. Caution should be used to avoid storage in materials that are not inert.

COINS & CURRENCY TERM M: NOTE: Purchasers of rare coins or currency through Heritage have available the option of arbitration by the Professional Numismatists Guild (PNG); if an election is not made within ten (10) days of an unresolved dispute, Auctioneer may elect either PNG or A.A.A. Arbitration.

COINS & CURRENCY TERM N: For more information regarding Canadian lots attributed to the Charlton reference guides, please contact: Charlton International, PO Box 820, Station Willowdale B, North York, Ontario M2K 2R1 Canada.

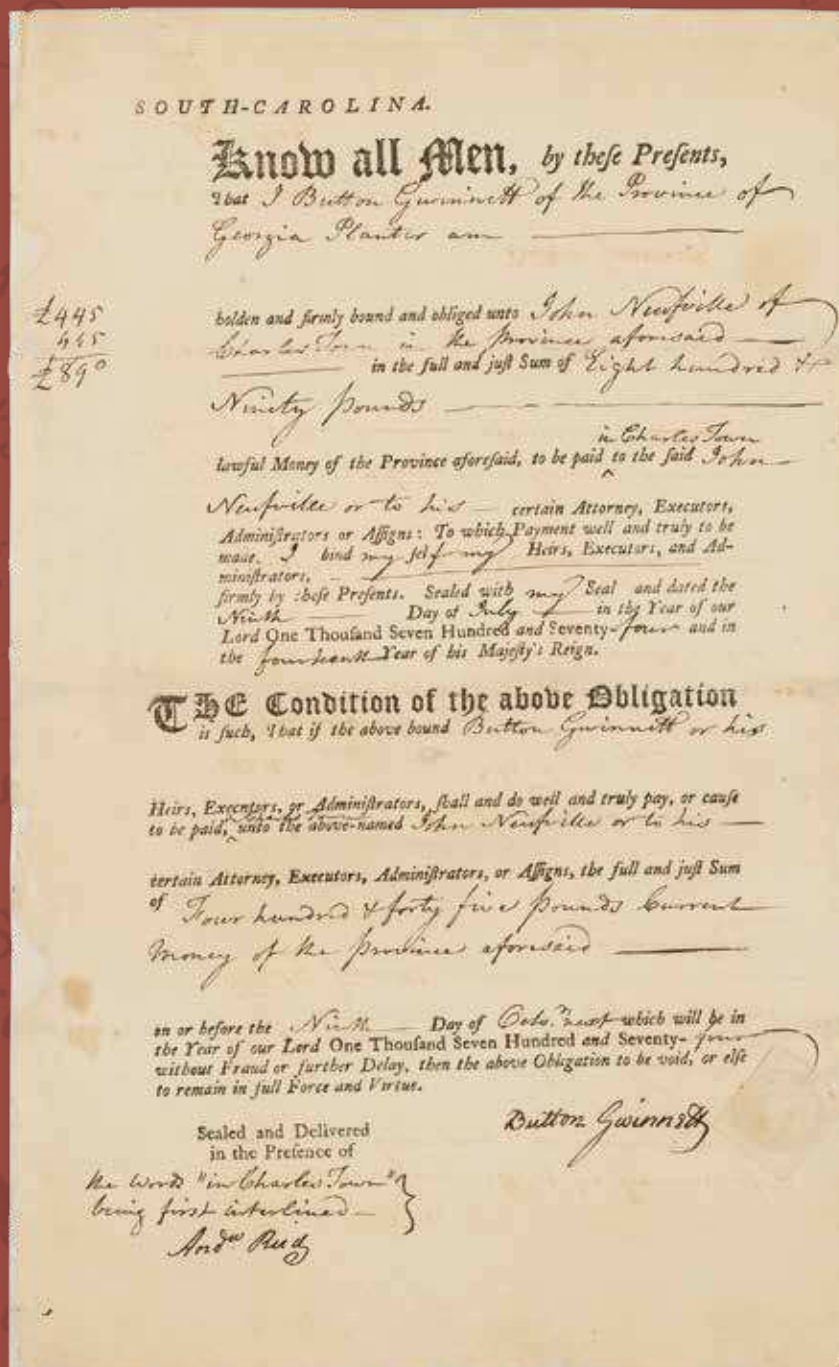

COINS & CURRENCY TERM O: Financing. Auctioneer offers various extended payment options to qualified pre-approved persons and companies. The options include Extended Payment Programs (EPP) Flexible Payment Program (FPP) and Dealer Terms. Each program has its specific terms and conditions and such terms and conditions are strictly enforced. Each program has to be executed by the purchaser. Auctioneer reserves the right to alter or deny credit and in such case these auction terms shall control.
